

Welcome to our 26th Annual Spring Bull Sale. Our goal as an Angus producer, is to go beyond the numbers, focus on feminine cows with small teats, level utters and long deep muscled bodies with great maternal traits. We have increased our cow numbers significantly over the last few years, while still selling the same number of bulls and trying to produce the highest quality bulls from top to bottom.

We are excited about the bulls we have to offer this year. They are summered in Wyoming at 8000 plus feet for 6 months on good native grass and wintered here at the ranch. We are grateful to you, our customers for your continued support and are proud to be your seed stock source. We are committed to having the best and updated genetics available.

Sincerely,
The Lund Family

LUND RANCH FIRST YEAR BREEDING GUARANTEE

Breeding season is defined as: the 60 day period following the first turnout of bulls.

All bulls guaranteed breeder for the first breeding season. If a bull is determined as non-breeder, please let us know as soon as possible. Buyer satisfaction options are as follows:

- 1) Return the bull and we will replace it with a comparable bull if available.
- 2) We will loan you a bull to get through your breeding season.
- 3) We will issue a full credit towards next year's sale, less salvage value.

QUAD PLUS PURCHASE PROMOTION PAYMENT OPTION

Upon buying four bulls or more, you have the option to pay 50% of total purchase at time of sale with balance due by November 15th of Sale year.

CHOOSING THE RIGHT BULL FOR YOUR HERD

EPDs PRODUCTION

Expected Progeny Difference (EPD) is the estimate of how future progeny of an individual are expected to perform in each of the listed traits, compared to the progeny of an average individual of the Angus breed.

Birth Weight (BW) expressed in pounds, is a predictor of a sire's ability to transmit birth weight to his progeny compared to that of other sires.

Weaning (WW) expressed in pounds, is a predictor of a sire's ability to transmit weaning growth to his progeny compared to that of other sires.

Milk is a predictor of a sire's genetic merit for milk and mothering ability as expressed in his daughters, compared to daughters of other sires. In other words, it is that part of a calf's weaning weight that attributes to milk and mothering ability.

Yearling Weight (YW) expressed in pounds, is a predictor of a sire's ability to transmit yearling growth to his progeny compared to that of other sires.

Scrotal Circumference (SC) expressed in centimeters, is a predictor of the difference in transmitting ability for scrotal size compared to that of other sires.

Pulmonary Arterial Pressure (PAP) - is used in cattle as a predictor of the susceptibility of High Mountain Disease (HMD) or commonly known as Brisket Disease. Even though there are many factors that can lead to the presentation of this disease, the PAP test is the gold standard. Elevation, age, and marbling are some key factors. The recommended elevation is 5000+ feet and the animal needs to stay above that for a minimum of 45 days to be accurate. The recommended age for an accurate PAP score is 12-24 months. As these animals grow, they develop marbling. They higher the fat content around the heart and lungs, the harder it is to pump blood. Therefore, effecting the PAP score by a couple of points. PAP scored animals are typically assigned a specific number in a point system. However, they should be evaluated in ranges rather than specific numbers. Statistically, for similar elevations, many animals over a score range (2-4 points) have the same likelihood of developing Brisket. The accuracy of the testing equipment is plus or minus 1 point. Don't let your ideal animal get away for a few points on the PAP score.

MANAGEMENT AND CARE OF YEARLING BULLS

1. Remember, your bull is now only 12-15 months old, even though he may weigh 1000-1300 pounds. He has been on a feed test, and ration changes should be done gradually. It is good to let them harden up on pasture before breeding season begins. However, the pasture must be good, and they still require extra energy and protein. If turned out on poor pasture or dropped off too fast, they can lose weight rapidly. Research shows that this causes a bull to produce poor quality semen and also effects the bull's libido. It takes two months for sperm to develop and mature. Any stress conditions during that time can reduce its fertilizing ability.
2. Don't expect a young bull to compete with older bulls or horned bulls. If intimidated by an older bull, he won't breed effectively. If handled properly and not dominated by older bulls, a young bull should service 20-25 females his first season. The size of the pasture and terrain also influence this.
3. Limit the breeding season to no more than 60 days on a yearling bull. If you can't limit the season consider rotation to give him a rest.
4. Watch a young bull early in the season to detect any physical problems. A virgin bull can have inadequacies undetectable except through observation.
5. Maintain a good general health program, salt, mineral and fly control.
6. Recondition young bulls after the breeding season to allow them to mature to their genetic capabilities. This is a very critical age as they start losing their teeth at 18-24 months. A young bull consequently eats slower and cannot utilize as rough of a feed, or compete for feed, as one with permanent teeth. Worming can make a significant difference as well as a grub and louse control program. Research indicates that a bull's usefulness as a two year old can be retarded if not properly conditioned after use as a yearling.

Lund Ranch will retain 1/2 the interest on semen and semen sold on all bulls in the sale. Buyer has full possession, seller will collect at buyers convenience and at sellers expense.
